

FAMILIA SCHROEDER PINOT NOIR ALPATACO, PATAGONIA

100% Pinot Noir. Deeply perfumed aromas with notes of black cherry, redcurrant, summer fruit and plenty of power, spice and a silky balance. Sweet tannins and balanced acidity with fine notes of vanilla and cocoa powder. "Alpataco" is an indigenous bush that symbolizes the tenacity of life in the Patagonian steppe.

Located in the San Patricio Valley of Chañar, Patagonia Argentina, at 39 ° south latitude and 33 miles from the city of Neuquén, the new viticultural zone of the country and the world. Here are incomparable conditions that make this a special region for the cultivation of a wide variety of grape varieties with a Patagonian profile. Stony soil, abundant melt water, wide temperature difference between hot days and cool nights, frequent winds and low humidity. All grapes are harvested by hand. Fermentation at low temperatures in stainless steel tanks. Conservation with its fine sludges periodically putting them in suspension until stabilization and bottling.

The Schroeder family, of European origin and deeply rooted in Patagonia, is known for its sustained entrepreneurial profile. Perseverance and excellence characterize this family of pioneering visionaries. From the beginning of the 20th century, they began to forge a dream of greatness in these lands. The winery, which covers 300 acres, saw its inception in October 2002. In the last decade they have dedicated with passion, tireless efforts to turn these arid and inhospitable lands into a cutting-edge viticultural center, at the level of the world's leading wineries.
