

BODEGAS WEINERT CARRASCAL

Malbec, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot. Shining red in color, this wine is one of the Argentine classics. Its bouquet is developed with notes of oak from its aging of 3 years in French barrels. Harmonious palate that is smooth and vivacious. Its juicy acidity keeps it round and full of life.

Located in the heart of Mendoza, Argentina, Bodegas Weinert is a stalwart champion of old school European styled winemaking. Harvesting from very old vines planted in Lujan de Cuyo and nearby Maipu, they vinify all of their wines in tank and age them in old French oak casks to add structure and power without the undue flavors of new oak barrels.

Founded in 1975, Bodega y Cavas de Weinert is located in Argentina's cradle for top quality wines and boasts a beautiful original 1890 building of Spanish colonial architecture that captures the interest of visitors. Founder and owner Don Bernardo C. Weinert was born in a small German colony in Southern Brazil. Fascinated by the world of wine, he decided to found his own winery in Argentina with one unconditional approach: producing high quality wines. He made an extensive study about Mendoza—its climate, soil, grapes—and came to the conclusion that Lujan de Cuyo was the perfect place for his project. After a thorough restoration work of the building acquired in 1975, he brought in the latest technology in vinification of that time and was joined by acclaimed oenologists. In 1977 he produced Weinert Malbec Estrella 1977, a wine renowned by the world's most prestigious tasters.
