

91 | Terre Rouge 2013 Sierra Foothills Mourvedre $30 (08/16)

Mourvedre seems to adapt easily to the high-altitude sunlight and volcanic soils of the Sierra Foothills. This is just one of many compelling versions coming from Gold Country. The aromas here are completely savory—think blood, dust, tobacco and dried mushrooms—and there’s an energetic buzz to the acidity that gives the meaty flavors their firm definition and appetizing length.
