

CENTOPASSI 'GIATO' BIANCO

Grillo & Catarratto. Centopassi's grapes come from various vineyards in the high Belice Corleonese Plateau, near the town of Corleone, south of Palermo. 'Giato' is the name of the area around the ancient Greek theatre on Mount Jato. Grillo & Catarratto are widely grown in western Sicily, most commonly used in Marsala. This wine shows brisk, flavorful hints of herbs, apple & mandarin orange. Shockingly good for the money. Organic.

From vines grown in the Sicilia DOC Superiore in Sicily, Italy. The vineyard is at 450m altitude with clayey soil. Controlled low temperature fermentation in stainless steel using neutral selected yeasts. Aged in stainless steel for six months. Gentle filtration.

'I Cento Passi,' (the Hundred Steps), is an anti-Mafia film made in 2000, and Centopassi is the winemaking entity of Libera Terra cooperatives that cultivate land confiscated from the mafia in Sicily. The vineyards are distributed in the Alto Belice Corleonese, an area where nature dominates, with overwhelming beauty, unmistakable horizons, and unforgettable sunsets. The wines tell the diversity of each vineyard, of the soils that distinguish them, and of the vines that from time to time enhance their characteristics.

AN EASTERLY WINE SELECTION • BELFAST, ME

Tasting Note:

CENTOPASSI 'GIATO' BIANCO

Grillo & Catarratto. Brisk, flavorful hints of herbs, apple & mandarin orange; shockingly good for the money. Organic.

Shelf Talker:

