

DOMAINE DES GARRIGUETTES CÔTES DU RHÔNE VILLAGES GADAGNE ROUGE 'FONTISSON'

100% Syrah, from vines planted in 1972. An intense dark purple color. A fruity fragrance with hints of caramelized berries. Deep and fresh, powerful and remarkably tasty, this Côtes-du-Rhône embodies the perfect blend between the passion of a young wine-grower and an exceptional terroir. Organic/Biodynamic.

From Fontisso, a 3.2 acre north facing site at 115m in the village of Châteauneuf de Gadagne, Côtes du Rhône, Southern Rhône Valley, France. The soil is galet rouge ferreux (rounded glacial rocks, predominantly quartzite with iron) over a clay subsoil. The vines were planted in 1972. 85% of the wine is handpicked as whole bunches, destemmed, and crushed. 15% is fermented as whole clusters with stems. Spontaneous alcoholic fermentation with indigenous yeasts in cement tanks, 28-day maceration of the cap, followed by spontaneous malolactic fermentation in cement tanks. Aging is one year in concrete vats. Fined and unfiltered.

Domaine des Garriguettes is a family-run estate currently managed by fourth-generation vigneron Sébastien Clément. The estate was the first in their village to embrace organic agriculture and continues to be a leader in natural winemaking in the region. Sébastien, who has gained experience in the northern Rhône, Portugal, and Australia, handcrafts innovative and fresh expressions that honor the traditions of his Provençal village. The estate is dedicated to progressive regenerative and biodynamic farming methods, as well as natural winemaking practices.
