

DOMAINE DENIZOT SANCERRE 'OSMOZE'

100% Sauvignon Blanc. Intensely aromatic, opening with vibrant pink grapefruit, lime zest, green apple and white peach, laced with subtle elderflower and fresh tarragon. Crisp and tautly structured. The palate is lush but driven by a mouthwatering acidity. The finish is highly precise with notes of wet slate, gunflint and a distinct, refreshing saline lift with delicate fruity notes. Pair with fresh seafood like oysters and scallops, goat cheese and crisp spring salads tossed in a sharp citrus vinaigrette. Organic/Biodynamic.

Estate grown fruit sourced from plots spread across four of Sancerre's most prestigious communes: Amigny, Chavignol, Sancerre, and Verdigny. The soils are 95% Caillottes (stony Oxfordian limestone) and 5% Terres Blanches (Kimmeridgian marl). Harvested by hand into small crates. Long, slow pneumatic pressing. Natural sediment settling (débourbage) at low temperatures over 36-48-hours. Fermentation with native yeasts in stainless steel tanks, concrete vats and truncated conical oak barrels. Matured for roughly one year on its fine lees without heavy stirring, texturing the mid-palate while keeping the wine linear and bright. Unfiltered.

Since the 17th century, the Denizot family has quietly grown grapes in the Sancerre hamlet of Amigny, operating for generations as private farmers who sold their harvests in bulk to large regional négociants.

That quiet history transformed in 2016 when Thibault Denizot and his wife Jennifer took control, eliminated bulk sales, and founded Domaine Denizot to estate-bottle 100% of their fruit. Today, the estate has expanded to 50 acres—reclaiming premium Pouilly-Fumé plots originally planted by Thibault's maternal grandparents—and has risen to elite status as a certified organic, biodynamic pioneer recognized with a prestigious star in Le Guide Vert de la Revue du Vin de France.
