FOX TALES
CABERNET SAUVIGNON

100% Cabernet Sauvignon. Aromas of blackberry, dark cherry, cassis and ripe plum, complemented by underlying notes of mint, dark chocolate, tobacco and clove. The medium-to-full-bodied palate delivers generous, bright flavors of blackcurrant and dark cherry balanced by a refined mouthfeel and soft, approachable tannins. The finish is smooth and well-structured, leaving lingering hints of subtle oak and gentle spice. This wine pairs exceptionally well with grilled steak dishes, roast leg of lamb, duck breast, earthy wild mushroom dishes, and hard cheeses.

The fruit is grown in the Limestone Coast region of South Australia, a cool-climate area heavily shaped by maritime breezes originating from the Southern Ocean. The vineyards are positioned across low-lying coastal ridges and plains growing in the region's famous terra rossa soils, characterized by red clay loam overlaying a deep limestone base. The grapes are sourced from established regional blocks with an active vine age averaging between 15 and 25 years old. In the cellar, the grapes underwent a temperature-controlled fermentation with time spent on the skins to softly extract color and structural tannins. The wine completed its élevage with a light touch of French oak.

Fox Tales is an approachable, value-driven label produced by Limestone Coast Wines, a family-owned company based in the cool-climate Limestone Coast region of South Australia. Focused entirely on sustainable, vegan-friendly production, the brand is crafted by winemakers Leisha Munro and Stephen Tierney to deliver expressive, fruit-forward wines that offer exceptional regional freshness. Alongside classic, expertly crafted staples like their bright Sauvignon Blanc and robust Cabernet Sauvignon, Fox Tales distinguishes itself by championing alternative, globally inspired varieties suited to South Australian soils. This is highlighted by their deeply intense, estate-grown Saperavi—a rare, ancient Georgian red grape variety that thrives in the region and delivers a uniquely rich, dark fruit profile.
