

SMALLFRY
CINSAULT 'STARRY STARRY NIGHT'

100% Cinsault. Vivid, translucent bright pinkish-red hue. Vibrant aromas of cranberries, raspberries, red plum, savory herbs and white peppery spices. The lightweight, low-alcohol palate features a juicy burst of sweetish red fruit flavors, including pomegranate, mulberry and blueberry, balanced by a distinct "whole-bunch" crunch, refreshing varietal acidity, and a light smudge of powdery, skin-derived tannins. The finish is bone-dry and puckering, leaving a clean, refreshing trail of tart red berries. An ideal chillable red that pairs exceptionally well with tapas, charcuterie boards, grilled pork chops, tomato-based pastas, roasted chicken and Korean barbecue. Organic/Biodynamic.

Sourced from Wayne Ahrens' family estate vineyard situated in the Vine Vale subregion, located on the sandy valley floor of the Barossa Valley in South Australia. The flat, low-lying vineyard blocks feature deep, well-draining alluvial sandy loam soil. The vines average under 10 years old. Natural winemaking, including spontaneous wild fermentation with a high inclusion of whole grape clusters. The juice underwent a gentle infusion-style maceration on the skins to softly extract color without heavy phenolics. The wine was aged entirely in stainless steel tanks without any oak contact to preserve primary, unadulterated fruit characteristics, before being bottled unfined, unfiltered, and with minimal sulfites.

Smallfry Wines is a boutique, family-owned partnership between Suzi Hilder and fifth-generation Barossan Wayne Ahrens. Established in 2005, the estate comprises 44 acres of historic vineyards across two distinct South Australian terroirs: the sandy soils of Vine Vale on the Barossa Valley floor—where 40% of the vines are over a century old—and a high-altitude site in the Eden Valley. Fully certified organic and biodynamic since 2014, the winery is a champion of the natural wine movement, utilizing low-intervention, lo-fi winemaking techniques and wild ferments to craft highly expressive, food-friendly wines. Based out of their intimate cellar door in Angaston, they focus entirely on regenerative farming and a "light-touch" philosophy to let the ancient soils speak for themselves.
